DSWD condemns all forms of child sexual abuse; reminds parents to protect, nurture their children

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) has condemned acts of sexual abuse against children as the agency reminded parents of their responsibility to provide a safe, loving, and nurturing environment for their children.

The DSWD's reminders follows the rescue of 16 victim-survivors of online sexual abuse and exploitation of children (OSAEC) in separate operations in Cainta, Rizal, and General Santos City in Mindanao on October 13.

"Walang batang dapat makaranas ng anumang uri ng pang-aabuso, lalo na kung mula sa kamag-anak o sila mismo ang nagiging dahilan ng pagkakasangkot ng kanilang mga anak o kapamilya. Ang mga magulang ang inaasahan nilang magbibigay sa kanila ng pagmamahal at proteksyon. Responsibilidad ng mga magulang na alagaan, gabayan, at protektahan ang kanilang mga anak laban sa anumang panganib, online man o sa personal," Asst. Secretary Irene Dumlao, the DSWD spokesperson, said on Friday (October 16).

DepEd launches My Buddy peer support system for safer schools

The Department of Education (DepEd) is expanding its network of learner-led peer facilitation through the My Buddy System, alongside structured counseling and teacher check-ins, to build a safer and more supportive school environment as part of its mental health and psychosocial support framework.

As part of DepEd's observance of National School Safety Week, the My Buddy System initiative serves as a key component of the department's broader School Safety Campaign. By tapping into student networks, DepEd aims to encourage early help-seeking while ensuring that professionals continue to oversee risk assessments, formal referrals, and specialized care.

Education Secretary Sonny Angara emphasized the importance of peer support in breaking down communication barriers among young people experiencing difficulties.

"Alinsunod sa utos ni Pangulong Bongbong Marcos na tiyaking ligtas at supported ang ating mga mag-aaral, isinusulong natin ang peer facilitation dahil may mga pagkakataon na mas madaling magbukas ang bata sa kapwa niya mag-aaral," Angara said.

"Kaya sa pamamagitan ng peer facilitation, binibigyan natin sila ng safe space para magtulungan. Pero malinaw na ito ay katuwang at hindi kapalit ng ating mga guidance counselor at guro na patuloy na gagabay sa kanila."

Under the program, learner buddies will be organized through structured buddy pairings or small peer groups focused on friendship and horizontal peer mediation, based on the "big brother/big sister" model.

These activities encourage help-seeking within safe classroom environments and are designed to complement, rather than replace, professional guidance personnel. DepEd clarified that the initiative is not an alternative to professional mental health care.

To ensure close adult supervision, DepEd is accelerating the recruitment and deployment of School Counselor Associates to support School Counselors. These professionals will oversee peer groups and lead debriefing sessions, while Child Protection Committees (CPCs) and School Care Centers will handle protection concerns and external referrals.

As part of this comprehensive initiative, DepEd is also implementing structured classroom check-ins during Homeroom Guidance sessions to monitor learners' well-being and safety. Regular check-ins will also help identify potential risks early and ensure appropriate adult guidance.

Angara also emphasized the important role of parents and caregivers in remaining involved and vigilant to protect learners from harmful online influences.

He said preventing school violence and protecting learners' well-being are shared responsibilities of the entire community.

"Ang kaligtasan sa ating mga paaralan ay hindi lang usapin ng DepEd, ito ay pananagutan ng buong komunidad. Alinsunod sa utos ni Pangulong Marcos, gagawin natin ang lahat para protektahan ang ating mga mag-aaral," Angara added.

"Sa pag-uugnay ng ating mga guidance counselor, ng ating mga trained at alertong kabataan, at ng buong pamayanan, bumubuo tayo ng isang tunay na safety net para sa bawat kabataang Pilipino."

By strengthening connections among learners, teachers, mental health professionals, and other community members, DepEd aims to establish a resilient and comprehensive safety net that can address changes in learners' behavior before they escalate into violence.Source; DepEd

According to the Philippine National Police Women and Children Protection Center (PNP-WCPC), investigators recovered images and videos allegedly showing the minors being subjected to sexual acts.

In a letter written by the 14-year-old victim-survivor rescued in Cainta, the child appealed to parents to love, care for, and protect their children from harm.

"Gusto ko pong sabihin sa mga magulang na huwag n'yo pong gayahin yung ginawa ng mga magulang ko. Mahalin n'yo po 'yung anak n'yo," the OSAEC victim-survivor said.

The DSWD spokesperson stressed that parents have a responsibility to protect their children from all forms of abuse and exploitation, provide for their needs, and ensure their safety and well-being.

"Ang mga magulang po ang dapat na unang nagpo-protekta, nagmamahal at nangangalaga sa kanilang mga anak. Responsibilidad ninyo, ng komunidad, at ng pamahalaan na ilayo sa anumang panganib ang ating mga kabataan," the DSWD spokesperson said.

Asst. Secretary Dumlao said the DSWD continues to strengthen the implementation of its Parent Effectiveness Service (PES) Program to equip parents and parent-substitutes with the knowledge and skills needed to raise, protect, and nurture their children. Through parenting education and support, the program promotes responsible parenthood and helps prevent child abuse by encouraging parents to provide a safe and nurturing environment for their children. Gov't Moves to Lower Logistics Costs, Improve Goods Movement - PBBM icines in our pharmacies, the goods in our sari-sari stores depend on the efficient movement of goods across the country and around the world," the President said.

"This is the role of logistics. It connects our communities, sustains our businesses, and brings opportunities closer to the people. And especially during calamities, the timely delivery of essential supplies becomes even more critical," the Chief Executive added.

According to the President, the proposed Subic-Clark-Manila-Batangas (SCMB) Railway under the Luzon Economic Corridor (LEC) will address the lack of logistics infrastructure as the rail line aims to link major ports of Subic, Manila, and Batangas through an integrated freight network.

"These efforts are important steps forward. But we must also recognize that progress must be measured by whether Filipino consumers gain better access to the products that they need," President Marcos Jr. stressed.

For his part, Transportation Secretary Banoy Lopez assured that the DOTr is modernizing and upgrading the country's transport system to facilitate the efficient movement of goods and products.

"We are already modernizing the country's airports and seaports not only to ensure passenger comfort and convenience but also to guarantee an interconnected logistics hub which will lower logistics costs and generate investment opportunities for micro, small and medium enterprises. Upon the President's directive, we must ensure that the Philippines becomes a transshipment hub," Secretary Lopez said.

Meanwhile, Clark Hub Manager and UPS Air Operations Head Albert Sapaen Jr. said the new expansion will benefit Filipino businesses, and will boost employment opportunities in the region.

"Mga kababayan, lubos po naming ikinagagalak na ipahayag itong expansion ng UPS, napakalaking impact po nito sa ekonomiya ng Pilipinas. This facility will employ additional 600 people, and most of those jobs are sourced from within Pampanga and nearby provinces," he said.

The President inspected the UPS Clark International Air Hub together with Secretary Lopez and Trade Secretary Ma. Cristina Roque.

The facility which is located at the Clark International Airport in Pampanga, is expected to handle around 46,000 packages and cargo shipments daily—over nine times the estimated volume handled by the current UPS hub. The facility has 17 electric ground service vehicles and equipment units, along with nine additional units scheduled for delivery next year. This will support more efficient operations, at the same time advancing the advocacy for environmental sustainability. The dedicated immigration and customs lanes will also help streamline cargo clearance. Source: DOTR

29 na kooperatiba, sumailalim sa pagsasanay sa AI para sa mas matalinong pagsusuri sa pananalapi

Nilahukan ng 29 na kinatawan mula sa iba't ibang kooperatiba sa lungsod ang ikalawang batch ng seminar na "AI Tools for Cooperative Financial Analysis: Faster Insights, Smarter Decisions" na pinangunahan ng Office of the City Cooperatives Development Officer sa pamumuno ni Generoso "Bong" Ramos, noong Biyernes, Oktubre 9, 2026, sa Cooperative and Livelihood Training Center (CLTC), Brgy. Poblacion 2-A.

Tinalakay ng tagapagturo na si City Administrator Lauro D. Monzon ang mga pangunahing konsepto hinggil sa paggamit ng Artificial Intelligence (AI) sa Cooperative Financial Management and Analysis, kabilang ang aplikasyon ng AI tools sa pagsusuri ng financial statements at ratio analysis.

Binigyang-diin din sa talakayan ang mga limitasyon, panganib, at etikal na paggamit ng AI sa financial analysis upang matiyak na mananatiling responsable, wasto, at naaayon sa pamantayan ang paggamit ng teknolohiya sa mga kooperatiba. Ayon sa tanggapan, mahalagang maunawaan ng mga kooperatiba ang mga hamon at pananagutang kaakibat ng paggamit ng AI, bukod sa mga benepisyong hatid nito. Ito ay upang matiyak ang maayos at epektibong pamamahala ng kanilang pananalapi. Layunin din ng seminar na palawakin ang kaalaman at kakayahan ng mga kooperatiba sa paggamit ng AI bilang katuwang sa pagsusuri ng datos pampananalapi, pagpapahusay ng pagdedesisyon, at pagtataguyod ng mas episyente at mas responsableng pamamahala ng kanilang mga organisasyon.
